DEDICATION

IN OCTOBER, 1935, Arnaud C. Marts first began his task as the acting president of Bucknell University. Because he is president of Marts and Lundy, Inc., his executive duties in this connection do not permit him to devote more than half of his time to the affairs of this institution.

Nevertheless, Mr. Marts, during his short stay at Bucknell, has fostered numerous progressive projects, including the furthering of the college building program, resulting in the reconstruction of Old Main, and the formulation of a new prepayment plan by means of which parents may more adequately plan for the future education of their offspring. In addition, he has sponsored a unique "Design for Living" series of chapel programs, which has renewed student interest in the chapel.

In spite of these great tasks, Mr. Marts has not neglected to cultivate intimate personal relations with students and friends of the University, and has therefore made a niche for himself in the hearts of all Bucknellians. To him, our friend and leader, the Class of 1937 respectfully dedicates this book.

The Bucknellian
BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

*"Enjoying isolation
for a vocation . . ."*

THE almost voluntary isolation of an academic institution tends to establish it as a community in itself, not complete, but still a community. Viewing it objectively, one may note its cultural activity — music, art, drama, literature: its commerce — classes, lectures: its social life — dances, teas, parties. The University is a community.

As a group the College is different from any other community; ever-changing, but always with one purpose — the preparation for a vocation. This is a common goal to which everyone works.

This annual, the first yearbook of the Senior Class, depicts the school as a community. It has stopped the machinery for a split-second in which to secure a conglomerate, but comprehensive, panorama of the whole. We see the student as he appears attending classes, prom-trotting, relaxing or working in his home, playing, emoting, singing.

To represent modern youth in an appropriate manner, layouts in the modern tempo have been employed exclusively: to represent the student as he actually is, informality has been emphasized: to make the book truly representative, student art work has been used. Combining these typical qualities, L'Agenda of 1937 has presented a vivid cross-section of student life.

ACTING-PRESIDENT
ARNAUD C. MARTS

A GRADUATE of Oberlin College, holder of a Doctor's degree and a Phi Beta Kappa key, and a long time trustee of Bucknell University, Arnaud C. Marts came to Bucknell in 1935 as ex-president Rainey's successor. He also heads the firm of Marts and Lundy, an extremely successful and unique organization for the purpose of raising funds for various philanthropic and educational institutions. Since his affiliation with the University he has proved a true friend and adviser of the students, and he has been of indispensable aid in the raising of the reconstruction fund of Old Main.

VICE-PRESIDENT
ROMEYN H. RIVENBURG

Dr. R. H. Rivenburg, a graduate of Bucknell University in the class of 1897, has served his Alma Mater as Dean of the College since September, 1923, and since December, 1935 as Vice-President of the University. For thirteen years he has offered students many valuable suggestions concerning their curriculum, and has kindly helped them with their problems.

DEAN DOROTHY T. DYER

Mrs. Dorothy T. Dyer, formerly assistant to the junior dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Ohio State University, and also graduate and holder of the B. S. degree in home economics from the same university, assumed her duties here since February, succeeding Mrs. Paul G. Stolz, who had been acting dean of women. Mrs. Dyer has specialized in personnel and guidance, and has done graduate work in psychology at the University of Minnesota. Her varied experience is very valuable in assisting her in the job she has undertaken, and for which she is so well equipped.

ACTING-DEAN MRS. PAUL G. STOLZ

Born on Wood Island, Kodiak, Alaska, educated at Linnefield, Oregon, and Bucknell, and holder of an M.A. degree from Columbia. Mrs. Stolz came to Bucknell after having been assistant dean of women at Harrisonburg State College for Women in Virginia.

H. W. HOLTER

The Registrar's office is using special registration cards and grade blanks designed by Mr. Holter. The grade cards are far more economical in that they can be revised at will, the original carbons being put on file instead of having to be destroyed as formerly happened.

D. L. RANCK

Through Mr. Ranck's office flows all the school business, amounting to three quarters of a million dollars annually. At present, he is following the plan of Dr. Judd, his predecessor, in an attempt to bring all the old University business records into satisfactory order.

T. E. EISLEY

Miss Eisley, Editor of the University News Service, edits all Bucknell news mailed from her office. She also keeps a file of student and faculty data.

M. H. HUNT

Miss Hunt finds her new office a great help in attending to the vast amount of undergraduate records and alumni records for applications of which she is in charge.

B. W. GRIFFITH

Professor Griffith, as business head for Bucknell athletics, finds his greatest difficulty in attempting to reconcile alumni and undergraduate ideas on sports with his limited budget.

C. McD. MORRIS

Mr. Charles McD. Morris has changed the Alumni Monthly from a newspaper into a magazine in an attempt to popularize the faculty, make the pages more interesting, and keep the members in touch with one another.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

THE Bucknell University Trustees, forty in number, and provided for by the first school charter, are the governing body of the school. The Board meets bi-annually by provision of the charter, but there are many special and committee meetings throughout the year. The members are divided into committees whose duties include the business, policy planning, and administration of both the University itself and the Junior College. It is in the Board of Trustees that all final decisions pertaining to University affairs rest.

Faculty Advisory Committee

THE Faculty Advisory Committee consists of twelve members, who represent the curricular groups of the University. The members are elected for two year terms, one half of the membership changing each year.

This committee has no administrative duties, but is concerned with general faculty problems that may be referred to or originated by it. Its function is to investigate and recommend policies concerning matters such as faculty administrative policies, study of effects of required courses on student distribution and faculty loads, admissions, and inter-faculty and trustee relations. The committee serves as spokesman on matters that are better undertaken by a group than by individuals.

Faculty Meeting in Bucknell Hall

English Department

Top: Robbins
Stillman, Phillips, Robbins, Coleman, Smith, Gregory, Theiss

THE primary purpose of college work in English is practical rather than cultural; but it inclines toward the establishment of general principles and practices rather than toward specialization in any field of application. The secondary purpose is decidedly cultural however. While they are planned definitely to avoid premature limitation, all the courses offered will be found to have their place in some scheme of specialization.

The English department at Bucknell University offers more than fifty courses, providing ample material for an undergraduate major in English and a graduate major for the Master's degree. The work is distributed in four divisions: (1) composition, (2) journalism, (3) public speaking, and (4) literature. In each of these divisions there are elementary courses serving as an introduction to the later work.

Twenty eight

Foreign Language Department

Top: Ballentine
McCrosen, Calkins, Ballentine, Frantz, Griffith

THE study of foreign language, because of its varied cultural and practical values and in particular its importance for linguistic training, forms an essential part of a liberal education. It is by the mastery of a second language that one is really able to know his own speech and to clearly understand and interpret foreign civilizations.

Provision is made for foreign language study with six to eight courses extending throughout the year in each of the four languages—German, French, Latin, and Spanish. Greek also has been restored to the curriculum with an offering of two years' work.

For aesthetic values, as well as these reasons, foreign languages continue to hold a dominant position in present day education.

Commerce and finance

Top: Matz
Bottom: Fasley, Biscoe, Peterson, Matz, Sears

THE department offers a Bachelor of Science Degree for three distinct groups of courses. The General Business Course, the Secretarial Course, and the Commercial Teacher Training Course. In addition to the three groups indicated, majors and minors are offered for Bachelor of Arts students.

It is the aim of the department to give a broad but definite grasp of economic principles and the fundamental operations of modern business. In order to achieve this end, courses of study are offered in general accounting, cost accounting and auditing, statistics, taxation, credits and collections, shorthand and typewriting, money, banking, marketing, advertising, business law, salesmanship, finance, investments, commercial education, office practice, personnel work, management, insurance, reports and correspondence, publicity, research work, public utilities, and business problems.

Social Science Department

THE expansion of social services undertaken by the national and local governments has created the need for a great body of trained social workers, in addition to well-informed citizens. Consequently, the number of college students attracted to social studies is steadily increasing.

In order to qualify as a skilled social worker, one or more years of graduate work in an accredited school of social work is needed in addition to actual experience in this field. Schools of Bucknell's size offer little in preliminary training, which the social work schools recommend, but the departments of social science at Bucknell are strengthening their courses with more extensive training possibilities in view.

Philosophy, Psychology, Religion, and Art

Top Bond;
Bottom: Lawson, Bond, Harriman, Gummo

THE four academic departments which comprise this group are closely related in history and purpose. The department of Philosophy is, in a certain sense, the parent of the other departments, although each has developed its particular techniques unhampered by traditional loyalties. Taken together, they offer a broad avenue of investigation into the avenues of truth, the functions of mind, the discovery of highest values, and the appreciation and production of beauty.

Music Department

Top: Stolz
Bottom: LeMon, Sticknev, Cook, Melrose, Gies, Jenkins, McRae

THE Department of Music affords the intellectual, talented, and eager student the opportunity to enjoy the provisions made for music study as an element of general culture or as a professional accomplishment.

Because of the complete character of its equipment and the high musical standard of its faculty, students can enjoy all the benefits of the Carnegie Musical Library, equipped with phonograph records and the best musical literature, concerts by the Bucknell String Quartets, Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, Symphony Orchestra, Organ Recitals, Oratorio, and Opera, all of which have a dominating influence in one's musical appreciation and general cultural growth.

Biological Science Department

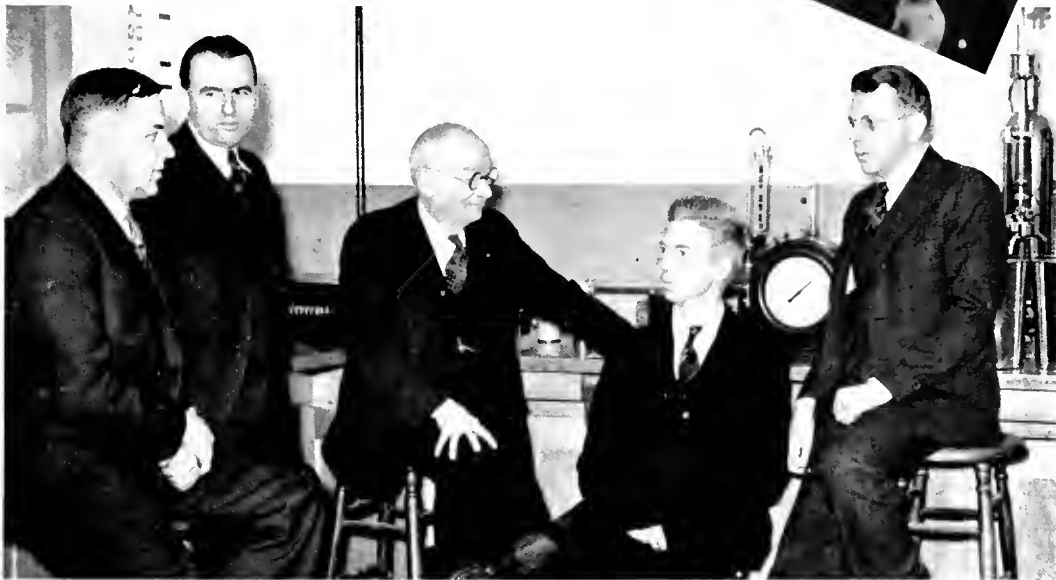

Top: Davis
Bottom: Stewart, Eyster, Fowle, Rice, Davis

THE study of the Biological Sciences has attained a dominant position in the College Curriculum. Its purpose is to train students for laboratory work, teaching, and specialized work in medicine. For the liberal arts group, there is a general information course which acquaints students with the fundamental knowledge of themselves and other living organisms.

Biology is an essential requirement of all well-rounded college courses, because it helps man to realize that he is a living organism of everyday life, which he must understand if he wants to have health and happiness.

Physical Science Department

Top: Simpson
Bottom: Gold, Legault, Simpson, Miller, Lowry

IN presenting physics to the students of Bucknell, the department recognizes two aspects of the subject, the cultural and the professional. The first year course lays a foundation upon which the advanced student may build up his work along either line of study.

Our lecture room is equipped with many pieces of apparatus built especially for the presentation of the subject by demonstration, and includes projection apparatus of the most advanced type, many lantern slides, moving picture films and sound films which are especially adapted to illustrate many difficult problems.

We aim to maintain the work in physics on a high and up-to-date plane. The laboratory is complete in its appointments, with apparatus of the latest type, as well as many pieces having historical interest in the development of the science.

Mathematics and Astronomy

Top: Richardson
Bottom: Drum, Richardson, MacCreadie

THE courses in mathematics at Bucknell are developed to meet the needs of two classes of students: those who may enter careers and fields of work where more or less mathematical training is necessary and those who may wish to study mathematics for its own sake.

In the first class may be mentioned the students who plan to be teachers of mathematics or science, physical scientists, social scientists, biologists, engineers, actuaries, statisticians, business men, accountants, and lawyers. In the second class are those students who have an appreciation of the mathematical mode of thought.

The courses in astronomy are mainly cultural, and it is their aim to give to the students a more profound appreciation of and a deeper insight into the physical universe in which we live.

Engineering Department

Top: Irland

Bottom: Gardner, Irland, Rhodes, Kintner, Kunkel, Garman, Griffith, Ogburn, Drum, Shaffer, Burpee

PROGRESS in engineering during the past year has been very encouraging. Revisions in curriculum have been made to keep abreast of advancement in science and invention. Total enrolment in engineering is the best in five years, and the number of chemical engineering students is the largest in the history of the department. Almost all of last year's class secured employment in engineering very soon after graduation and the others found positions later.

This year a committee of Visiting Engineers was formed to promote the interests of engineering at Bucknell in every possible way. The members of this committee are well qualified in their profession and are working with great enthusiasm. Their guidance and help should prove very profitable to the engineering departments.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

THE Bucknell Department of Education takes responsibility for the professional training of all persons desiring to enter the field of education. Undergraduates may train for teaching any of the academic or commercial subjects in high school or for teaching in the elementary school. In the graduate field Bucknell has the distinction of being one of the five institutions accredited for the professional training of superintendents and principals for the public schools of Pennsylvania. Recent developments in the field of guidance have prompted the Education Department to plan a program of training for guidance workers.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

RECOGNIZING the need of every student for a healthy body as the instrument of a keen and alert mind, the Physical Education Department has organized a thorough course in general physical training and gives opportunity to participate under the direction of skilled coaches in various forms of competitive athletics for the education and training values that come from such experience. The extension among all students in various forms of competitive athletics is vigorously promoted through a large variety of intramural and intercollegiate contests, both indoors and out.

LIBRARY

Eliza J. Martin

THOUGH one of the smaller buildings on the campus, the library is quiet and pleasant. The book-lined walls with open shelves for part of the collection attract the student to more than the required reading. In the periodical and in the reference rooms there is always interested aid for those seeking special material. Suggestions and guidance for assigned readings at the reserve desk save much time for the uninitiated student. The general circulation service is liberal with a number of books allowed.

The collection is adequate for undergraduate requirements, though there are many fields in which further material is desirable. To meet this need friends and alumni have formed a supporting group called "The Friends of the Bucknell University Library." Many valuable gifts from this source are being received.

ANOTHER epoch has passed in the life of the Seniors. Four years ago they embarked on a new career, — that of going to college. Now their journey is almost over, and they are ready to confront the world with the knowledge they have gained.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

THOSE of '37 entered the hillside campus in the fall of '33 when Bucknell began an experiment by introducing a new plan of education, the survey courses. This class may be facetiously regarded as Bucknell's "guinea pigs", for it was submitted to many new courses and tests under the guidance of Dr. Rainey, a Liberal Arts enthusiast.

Jack Filer, one of our outstanding football players, successfully led the new Bucknellians through their Freshman year. They well survived the Water Parade and the Freshman-Sophomore Scrap, showing the upperclassmen real spunk.

Clinton Condict was president during the Sophomore year. In keeping with their collegiate progress, the Sophomores were able to arrange a scintillating Cotillion, Mal Hallet's Band furnishing the rhythm.

As Juniors, the class elected Thomas Speck to lead them. "Stu" Smith brought glory to '37 with his excellent football playing. In the social world, the class provided a gala Prom, properly enriched with the strains of Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra.

With George Crouse at the helm, '37 nears the end of its course, marking the social chart with a Senior Reception, at which Acting-President Marts, aided by the faculty, was a genial host. This was the first time that such a pleasant "get-together" had been planned for the Seniors.

The Senior players contributed much to the success of the plays of the school year, "The Young Idea", "Death Takes a Holiday", and "Hamlet". The Senior Ball, which featured versatile Hal Kemp's Orchestra, was a fitting climax to the social affairs of '37.

JUNIOR PROM

TO THE smooth, sophisticated rhythms of Ray Noble's Orchestra, the Junior Class once more glided into the social limelight. As usual the most popular dance of the year was held in the Women's Dining Room, with its cheerful atmosphere. The Prom was especially gay and sparkling this year, the colorful spectacle being enhanced by the girls in trailing evening gowns bedecked with corsages, and their escorts in tails and tuxes.

The Class of 1938 owes much to the efforts of the Prom Committee, headed by Joe Deegan, which was important in making a brilliant success of one of the year's social highlights.

THE Class of '39 invaded the campus last year with a definite spirit, and they have carried it through this year in exactly the same manner. They marked the beginning of the era of increased enrollment at Bucknell, with a large class. They brought with them an air of vivacity which still characterizes each one of them.

Now, as Sophomores, we find that their record still shows them as they were when they entered. The year began with a defeat in the Water Tower Battle at the hands of the Freshmen, marked by a hard, long fight.

They originated the new policy of having smaller bands for their dance, the Sophomore Cotillion. This year the dance was held in January, and Howard Gale's Orchestra from Harrisburg furnished the music. The dance was a big success in spite of the engagement of a lesser-known band.

The Sophomores have a great many men on both the Varsity Football and Basketball teams, which shows that their perseverance and spirit is not limited to any one class of activities.

THE Class of 1940, the largest in the history of our Alma Mater, made its verdant entrance into Bucknell's gates last fall. An enthusiastic start was rather dampened by the traditional "Water Parade" imposed upon the boys by their traditional foes, the Sophomores.

Yet, no such moist welcome from their Seniors could waylay the zealous spirits of the "green-topped caps." The Freshies turned the tables on those superior Sophomores, when they successfully blotted out haughty "'39" and replaced it with their emblem, "'40" on the Water Tower, and other convenient spots on and off the campus.

The Freshman class again showed their prowess by overwhelming the Sophomores with their multitudinous numbers during the Freshman-Sophomore Scrap.

Socially the neophytes made their debut on Hallowe'en with a gala masquerade party, and did not shirk from participating in all of the social and extra-curricular activities which are a part of the campus life.

L'AGENDA

L'AGENDA makes its appearance this year as Bucknell's first Senior yearbook. With the issuance of Memorial L'Agenda last year, the annual passed through a transitional stage from a Junior to a Senior publication.

1937 L'Agenda is characterized by several changes in the staff setup and the general layout of the book itself.

The Editorial staff was revamped to include the addition of a Junior staff, a Photographic department, and an Art staff. The latter two staffs were added in an attempt to encourage more student effort in the production of the book. The Junior staff, competing for the editorship, is directly under the supervision of the editor.

The editors in their selection of a theme attempted to present a crystallization of the everyday campus life, during the course of the college year, in a modern motif. L'Agenda is the product of student art, photography, and original layout ideas. A liberal use of candid camera photographs set in the latest expression of balance, combine to make L'Agenda a modern publication.

L'Agenda attempts to go beyond the mere collection of photographs and copy. It has woven a pattern of many expressions throughout the main and sub-divisions by the effective use of art and verse.

THE BUCK

THE Bucknellian is the weekly newspaper of the University. This eight-page journal, published on Thursday of each week, is handled entirely by students. It is an active laboratory for journalism students. The staff members are chosen, on a competitive basis, by the Board of Publications. Students serving in the capacity of editor, business manager, news editor, and managing editor are awarded credit hours for their work.

1937 marks the fortieth anniversary of the Bucknellian and a special memorial issue was prepared by the staff to celebrate that event. An eight-page supplement was added to the regular issue, containing a reprint of the first issue and special feature articles concerning the life and times of 1897.

William Work, Business Manager

A MEMBER of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, The Bucknellian was awarded second place in the editorial contest of the I. N. A. It was also given honorable mention in regard to news and makeup. Last year the paper won first class honor rating from the National Scholastic Press Association ratings.

Increased use of pictures and feature articles have done much to enhance the excellence of the newspaper. Thumbnail sketches of professors with accompanying interviews, and the "Undergraduate" column dealing with current events of student interest written by a campus leader, serve to increase reader enthusiasm.

THE APPLE CART

Gillet, Editor
Lanni, Business Manager

THE Apple Cart is the student literary magazine on the Bucknell campus.

Before the appearance of the Apple Cart last year, Bucknell had had only one other magazine for students, the Belle Hop, a humorous publication. However, it was recognized last year, that there was a need on the campus for a magazine supplying good literary entertainment. The Apple Cart also serves the purpose of encouraging literary expression among the students, and provides them with an outlet for it.

There were two issues this year. The first issue, which appeared in November, contained short stories, sketches, and poetry contributed by students, and articles and reviews on music, drama, art, and books. The other issue appeared in May and featured spring activities on the campus.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

Travis, Lanni, Appleby, Theiss (Chairman), Work, Holter

THE Board of Publications guides and directs the courses of the various campus publications. It selects the staff members and places its stamp of approval on any new literary venture.

THE FRESHMAN HANDBOOK

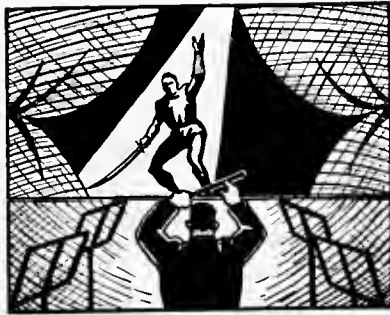

THE Freshman Handbook, presented by the Christian Association to the incoming freshman class, is a comprehensive guide to Bucknell campus life.

This small book contains an inclusive account of the traditions, activities, organizations, and rules of the University. Pictures of faculty and campus leaders, and important organizations are included.

The staff is selected from those applying to the Christian Association office and approved by the Board of Publications.

DAGGER

To foster interest among the students and to provide opportunity for work in dramatic art is the purpose of Cap and Dagger, Bucknell's dramatic society

A variety of human emotions was expressed this year in the plays of Cap and Dagger. "Death Takes a Holiday," the mystical dramatization of Death, was produced for the annual Father's Day Celebration last fall. The entertaining comedy, "The Young Idea," by Noel Coward, was the next production.

The climax of the year's dramatic offerings was "Hamlet," produced by Cap and Dagger with the cooperation of the Artist Course committee. Declared by many to be the finest thing Bucknell has seen, the acting, setting, and costumes were all outstanding. John Forsht, a former Bucknell student, returned to the campus to take the part of Hamlet.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

THE School of Music was organized on this campus in 1888. Since then, through its orchestra, band, glee clubs and through private lessons, it has been a large factor in enriching the lives of those students who come in contact with it.

The musical groups have earned an enviable reputation in the surrounding territory of Lewisburg and are often called upon to give concerts out of town. They also feature largely in campus life with their many recitals and the special music they offer at other meetings.

The Symphony Orchestra is composed of musically-minded students who desire to cultivate attitudes toward profound music. The study of compositions by the masters of the classical and romantic periods, and the presentation of these works by the Symphony Orchestra are two of the main objectives of this organization.

During the past season, two chapel concerts were presented—one, a program of the works of Bach, and the other, a Christmas program.

On March 17, the main symphony concert of the year was presented under the auspices of the Artist Course. The guest artist was the famous English baritone, Mr. Arthur Fear, who appeared in Wagner's "Die Meistersinger." The major part of the concert was devoted to a special arrangement of a portion of that musical drama.

Another important event was the Bach concert given at the Spring Festival. The Symphony Orchestra also furnished the music for "Hamlet," which was sponsored by the Artist Course.

COLLEGIUM MUSICUM

THE Collegium Musicum, an off-spring of the Symphony Orchestra, consists of a small group of musically-minded students who, in order to appreciate the music of the Renaissance, play it on instruments of that period. It is conducted by Professor Paul Gies.

MIXED CHORUS

THE Mixed Chorus, a group of 150 men and women voices, is the largest choral organization on the campus. Directed by Miss Grace Jenkins, the group gives several major concerts. On March 17 it sang on the Artist Course program featuring Arthur Fear, noted baritone. For the Spring Festival, the Mixed Chorus will sing Bach Cantata, "Singers Awake". At Commencement, the singers presented Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise."

Each year at Christmas time the group sings, under the direction of Dr. P. G. Stolz, Handel's "Messiah."

Three hours of practice each week are required of the members of the Mixed Chorus for which one credit hour a year is given.

MELROSE QUARTET

THE Melrose Quartet consists of four members of Phi Mu Epsilon national honorary music fraternity and is directed by Miss Melicent Melrose. The quartet sings in various churches and sang at the Melrose recital. It was organized to develop the musical taste of the performers and their listeners and specializes in the early Italian and German music.

MALE QUARTET

THE Male Quartet, directed by Professor Melvin LeMon, is a branch of the Men's Glee Club. The quartet appears with the Glee Club and gives programs by itself. It sings on high school and chapel programs, and assisted in a service over WJZ, the national broadcasting company.

GLEE

LeMon

Claypoole

THE Men's Glee Club was re-organized by Assistant Professor Melvin LeMon in the spring of 1933. Before that time it consisted of those male students who were taking vocal lessons.

Mr. LeMon organized the club as an extra-curricular activity and started out with forty voices. In that year only local concerts were given. Ten boys were added the next fall and the club took its first long tour up in New York State, visiting Rochester, Buffalo, Altoona, and Pittsburgh. They also became increasingly in demand locally.

A total of sixty members was reached in the years 1934-1935. In that year the club took its first trip to metropolitan New York and gave its first national broadcast. Thirty-two concerts were given this year.

During the years 1935-1936 the Glee Club gave forty-seven concerts including a successful tour of the neighboring states. The club received national recognition as they gave five broadcasts, three of which were national hook-ups.

The club has gained the enthusiastic support of the students and administration, and acts as a connecting link between the School and Alumni. It is noteworthy for the fine music it presents to its public and cooperates with all other musical organizations, singing in oratorios, operas, and with orchestral concerts.

CLUB

THIS year the Glee Club has continued and enhanced its previous record. Fifty-five men presented twenty-five concerts in an eight-day tour of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, singing over stations KYW, WABC, and WOR. The group this year featured the singing of Pennsylvania Folk Song, which, with the specially arranged College songs, were the most popular on their program.

Besides the tour, the group gave many other concerts and sang in the University's production of "The Messiah," and the Artist Course presentation of Arthur Fear and "Die Meistersinger." Singing at the Father's Day banquet, in church on Mother's Day, at the Spring Festival, and at Commencement, has become traditional for the Glee Club.

BUCKNELL

WITHIN two years, the Bucknell Band has been increased to contain seventy persons. It owns its own uniforms and instruments, and is now organized into a year-round organization.

Much of the success of the band is due to Lynnford Claypoole, student manager, who engineered the finances for uniforms, equipment, and instruments, which had been burned in the Old Main fire.

The band, once merely an extra-curricular activity, has now been given academic standing which insures credit for those who participate.

The band, in addition to its music during the football season, also gave concerts during the winter. Their concert at the Spring Festival has become a tradition.

A NEW innovation was the introduction of girls into the band. The band has become nationally known through its popular drum-major, Bernice Henry, for a while believed to be the only girl drum-major in the country.

The band won first prize in the Pennsylvania Firemen's parade, held in Williamsport, in competition with fifty other bands.

This spring the band conducted all-College sings which were held on the Women's College Quadrangle. The sings lasted about three-quarters of an hour, during which time the band gave a short concert, and then played for the group singing.

In addition to playing for every home football game, the group went to Philadelphia, and State College with the team.

DEBATE

THE climax of Bucknell's debating season was reached in a two weeks' tour of mid-western colleges. The team, debating that Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and minimum hours for industry, showed up favorably against a formidable list of opponents.

Two dual debates with the Bucknell Junior College were held in March. Other debates were held with Penn State, University of Tulsa, Western Maryland, Villanova, and Swarthmore Colleges. Some of the schools they met in the mid-west were Carnegie Tech, University of Pittsburgh, Western Reserve University, Purdue University, Ohio Wesleyan College, University of Cincinnati, and Loyola.

Special recognition came to the Bucknell debating squad this year when its leader C. H. Richardson and Rita Holbrook, were asked to represent Bucknell over the National Broadcasting Company on the three-cornered debate between Mt. Holyoke, Colgate, and Bucknell on the advantages of a girls' school, a boys' school, and a co-educational institution.

The coach of the debating squads, both boys and girls, is Mr. Lee Francis Lybarger, Jr., who graduated from Bucknell in 1928.

The student manager is C. H. Richardson. Robert Burke, William Clemens, Robert Jones, Thomas Leinbach, William Orlandi, and John Duffy are on the squad.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

THE Women's Debating Squad, managed by Rita Holbrook, also had a successful season. In many cases they held a dual debate with the boys' team. They, too, made a mid-west trip meeting such colleges as University of Pittsburgh, University of Chicago, Northwestern University, University of Illinois, Ohio Wesleyan University, University of Akron, Juniata College, Pennsylvania College for Women, Allegheny, Ursinus, Lebanon Valley, Cedar Crest, and Albright Colleges.

The girls accompanied the boys' team to the debating conference which was held at Penn State. Members of the debate squad were: Rita Holbrook, Maxine Askey, Margaret Campbell, Lorena Kyle, Doris Loos, Celia Markis, Henrietta McCausland, Mary McClelland, and Margaret Perrin.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

THE Christian Association, guided by its executive secretary, Forrest D. Brown, is one of the largest organizations on this campus. Inspiration, fellowship, and service bind its members together as they seek to realize the finest qualities of religion and apply it in their everyday living. Men and women students combine with faculty and churches in a unified program in an effort to attain that ideal.

The Christian Association is associated with the Student Christian Movement of the Middle Atlantic States which has national and world affiliation.

An executive committee of ten students, aided in many ways by an Advisory Committee of students, faculty and ministers, leads the Christian Association. The activities of the C. A. are many and varied, ranging from conferences with Student Church leaders to folk dancing and outings. The Association is one of the strongest in the Student Christian Movement. Its president, Clinton Condict, is chairman of the Regional Council.

A scene from "Into Thy Kingdom", staged by the C. A. Drama Group

A LONG cherished dream of the Christian Association has come true in the acquisition of a cabin site. A plot of 28 acres of woodland and fields about 7 miles from town has been bought, upon which a lodge will be built as soon as possible. Later sleeping quarters will be added.

The C. A. this year sponsored a Leadership Training Council at which representatives from Penn State, Lock Haven, and Juniata were present. A mining inquiry, which brought two miners from Scots Run to Bucknell and ended in Wilkes-Barre, was also instigated by the organization.

A new interest in folk dancing was fostered by the C. A., which, during the year, sponsored an outing led by Gene Durham. An afternoon of folk dancing led by Mr. Wilbut Kews of Penn State, and an exhibition followed by instruction by Ukrainian dancers from Penn State.

STUDENT-FACULTY CONGRESS

THE Student-Faculty Congress serves to foster the best interests of the various campus groups. It also creates a channel for democratic expressions of student opinion and has become increasingly interested in projects of all-college interest.

The apportioning of the Student Budget, freshman rules, pep meetings and athletic cooperation, social functions and the Artist Course committee are all under the jurisdiction of the Congress.

Each organization of student activities elect student representatives who meet with faculty advisers to make up the Congress.

After investigating the possibilities of the National Student Federation of America, the Congress decided to remain independent of that group.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT

THE Women's Student Government Association is the governing body of the women students. Every girl who is under the regulations of the dormitories is a member of the W. S. G. A. The Women's Student Senate is a representative body chosen by the girls from the four classes and the sorority and non-sorority organizations. It acts as the executive and legislative body for the group.

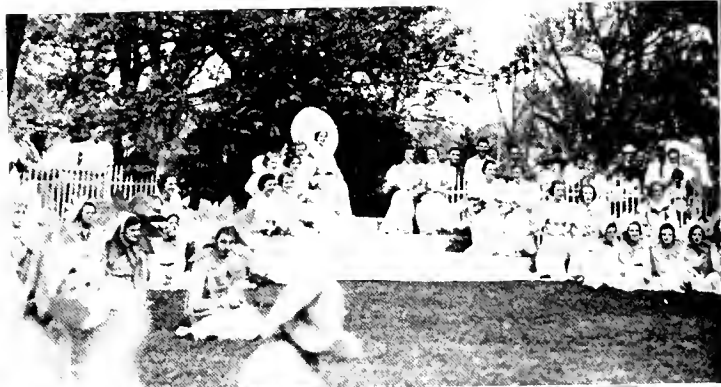

Each year the W. S. G. A. sponsors a student-faculty banquet — the girls acting as hostesses to the faculty members.

A series of teas at which the Women's College is at home every Wednesday afternoon to the boys and faculty members, is sponsored by the W. S. G. A.

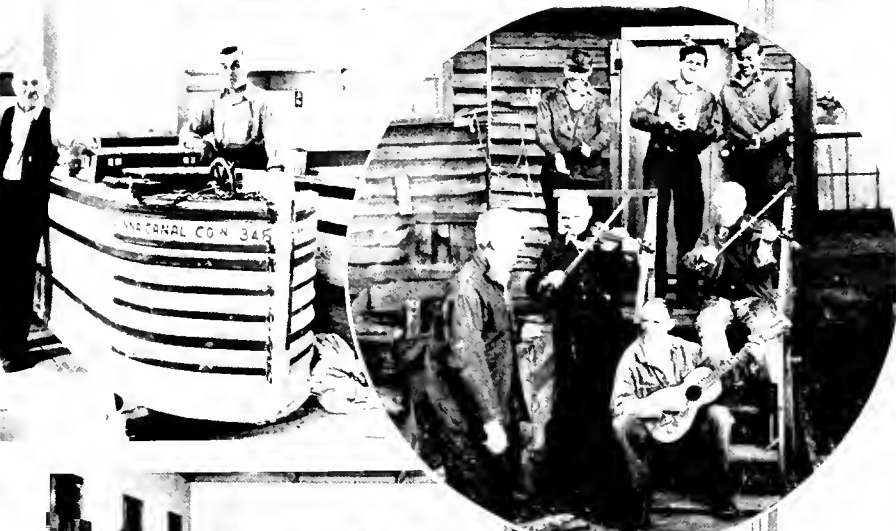

Meetings of the entire W. S. G. A. are held once a month at which time prominent speakers address the group. Moving-up Day is a tradition of W. S. G. A. at which time the members of each class officially become a class higher with the increased privileges which go with it, and new officers are installed.

FOOTBALL RESUME

THE Bucknell Bisons of 1936 proved to be an unpredictable eleven, displaying a perfect command of everything that a great football team must have one week, and playing like a scholastic eleven the next. Composed mostly of Sophomores, the Herd was a team of great potential ability, a potentiality that was realized only in spots.

Working with a small, inexperienced squad, Coach "Hooks" Mylin produced a machine that forged through a nine game schedule with a record of four wins, as many losses and one tie.

Opening the season with victories over Ursinus and Lebanon Valley, the Bisons displayed a reversal of form in dropping the next two contests to Miami and Georgetown, but came back to trounce the Prexies of Washington and Jefferson, and then reached the heights of the season by downing Villanova on Homecoming Day.

Journeying to Detroit the following week, the Herd hit the depths in losing to the Titans 7-33, and on the next Saturday were far outplayed by one of the best Penn State elevens in recent years.

In the final game of the season, the Bisons again displayed some of the form that brought them the victory over Villanova in holding the mighty Temple Owls to a scoreless deadlock in the mud of Thanksgiving Day.

BUCKNELL 6 URSINUS 0

A STUBBORN defensive eleven from Ursinus held the Bucknell attack in check for three quarters, and although most of the game was played deep in Ursinus territory, the Bisons were unable to score until the last few minutes of the game when Co-Captain Stuart Smith swept around end for the touchdown. Lou Tomasetti was the outstanding performer of the evening for Bucknell.

BUCKNELL 20 LEBANON VALLEY 0

THE Bisons put on a convincing display of scoring power, combining a deadly passing attack with a strong running game to score in each of the last three quarters and rout Lebanon Valley 20-0. Tomasetti and Smith again led the Bison attack, while Quick contributed the longest run of the game by breaking through the middle of the Lebanon Valley line and dashing 42 yards.

BUCKNELL 0 MIAMI 6

THE Hurricane from the University of Miami gained revenge for a defeat administered to them by the Bisons in an Orange Bowl game by handing the Thundering Herd its first defeat of the 1936 season. The Southerners completely outplayed the Bisons in the first three quarters, scoring their touchdown in the second on a pass from Panker to Masterson, a play that covered 53 yards. Bucknell muffed two scoring chances in the last few minutes of play by fumbling once when the ball was on the Miami 12, and again when the oval rested on the visitor's four yard line.

BUCKNELL 0 GEORGETOWN 19

THE Bucknell gridmen played ragged ball in dropping a 19-0 decision to the Hoyas of Georgetown. The Hoyas scored one in the early minutes of the game on a drive by Keating, and twice in the second half, on a pass from Keating to Nee, and again on a spinner play by Barabas. The Bisons were far outplayed, making only nine first downs against 17 for the Hoyas, and gaining only 59 yards from scrimmage against 221. The rugged defensive play of Filer and Smith were the bright spots in Bucknell's performance.

BUCKNELL 6

BEFORE 10,000 Homecoming Day fans, the Thundering Herd reached the heights of the 1936 season to hand the hitherto unbeaten, untied, Villanova Wildcats a stunning 6-0 defeat. Led by Tomasetti and Smith the Bison attack rolled up 229 yards from scrimmage, while limiting the 'Cats to 60. After completely outplaying the Villanova eleven in all departments of the game, the Herd scored late in the fourth quarter. With the ball in their possession near mid-field, the Herd shook Tomasetti loose, and the Sophomore star dashed 46 yards to the Villanova four yard line, from which point Smith plunged over for the score.

THE entire Herd eleven played great ball and for once realized the potential ability that was theirs. Tomasetti was the outstanding offensive player for the Herd with his stellar running and passing, while Smith did yeoman work on defense and backing up the line. Stopper, with his great kicking and passing, and Raimo, with his ball carrying, were the bright spots in the Villanova team.

BUCKNELL 26 WASHINGTON & JEFFERSON 6

SMARTING under the defeat administered to them by Georgetown the Thundering Herd stamped over the Prexies of Washington and Jefferson, 26-6. Hitting on all cylinders the Bison machine combined a passing attack with a potent running game, scoring once in the first quarter and third quarter and twice in the second quarter on long gaining plays. Tomasetti dashed off tackle for 78 yards, during the second period, in the most spectacular play of the game. The Prexies scored in the last quarter on an 80-yard drive, climaxed by a pass from Szewezyk to Croft, who ran 32 yards for the score.

BUCKNELL 7 DETROIT 33

AGainst the Titans of Detroit the Herd displayed a complete reversal of form to put up their worst game of the year. The Detroiters scored almost at will through the sluggish Bison defense, especially after Smith was removed from the game with a knee injury. The Bisons were weak in all phases of the game, and seemed badly confused by the aerial attack of the Motor City club. The only Bucknell score came in the second period when, after Otlowski had intercepted a Detroit aerial, Tomasetti passed to Smith for a touchdown and Ray Green converted the extra point.

BUCKNELL 0 PENN STATE 14

IN their traditional battle with State, the Herd continued their lackadaisical play and were lucky to escape with the score only 14 points against them. The feature play of the game was a 95-yard run on the return of kick-off for a touchdown by Patrick of State. The play occurred on the initial play. Patrick plunged over for State's second touchdown in the third period to culminate an 80-yard drive. Bucknell made its only offensive threat in the third quarter when they penetrated to the State 26-yard line. The punting of Lane and the running of "Herb" Bowman were the outstanding features of the Herd's play.

BUCKNELL 0 TEMPLE 0

AGAINST the Temple Owls in their annual Turkey Day clash, the Herd ended their string of defeats by holding the vaunted Warnermen to a scoreless tie. Displaying the same spirit that brought them the victory over Villanova, the Bisons threw back the Temple offense time after time, and once when the Owls were inside the Bucknell five yard line on a first down, the stalwart Herd line held. The superb long-distance punting of Bill Lane, and the defensive work of tackle Sturgeon were important factors in the upset deadlock.

SOCGER RESUME

THE Bucknell soccer team was the "hard-luck" team of the year. Time after time Bison Booters carried the battle into overtime periods, only to lose. Despite the fact that they displayed a good brand of ball on all occasions, the season's record shows but one win and one tie.

The Bisons opened against the crack East Stroudsburg Teachers, and handicapped by the mud, dropped a 3-1 decision. In their next game, the Renomen bowed 6-0 to Penn State, one of the best soccer clubs in intercollegiate circles, and were then shut out again by Army, 3-0. After a wobbly first half in which the Army booters scored all their points, the Bisons settled down and outplayed the Kaydets, but were unable to score.

Against Western Maryland the Renomen flashed a vastly improved brand of ball and were barely nosed out 2-1. This improvement was carried over into the Lafayette game, a heart-breaker, in which the Renomen were downed, 3-2.

On Homecoming Day, the Bisons reached their peak to defeat Dickinson 3-2, and then wound up their season by holding the highly-rated Temple team to a 1-1 tie.

The Bisons improved greatly as the season progressed and, as the majority of last year's team returns, a successful season is anticipated next year.

BASKETBALL RESUME

THE Bucknell cagers rounded out a fairly successful season, winning nine out of sixteen games.

In a pre-season game, the Bisons were nipped by a fast-stepping Williamsport team, 27-28. However, the Mussermen returned to the victory column with victories over Lafayette and Susquehanna. The cagers were defeated by Gettysburg, Penn State, and Temple, before again returning to the top by trouncing Delaware, 47-28. After being downed by Villanova, 14-37, in a stoutly contested game, the Bisons registered victories over Muhlenberg, Dickinson, Juniata, and Susquehanna, and suffered defeat at the hands of Lebanon Valley. The victory over the highly-rated Dickinson team was a highlight of the season.

Bill Foltz, center, remained the high scorer for the team for the second consecutive year, netting 173 points, slightly less than his previous year's total. Other outstanding performances were contributed by Sager, forward, Hawkins, guard, and Carpenter, forward.

THE SEASON

THE season of 1937 brought to a close the tenth season of boxing as an inter-collegiate sport at Bucknell. It has indeed been a decade of progress for the Bisons in the fistic world, and fitly enough, Bucknell concluded its schedule by emerging as the Conference champions.

Under the careful and experienced hand of coach Joe Reno, the squad turned out to be the most successful team Bucknell has ever had. This in spite of the fact that all but one of the meets were fought without a representative in the heavyweight division, and that there was difficulty in finding a man for the 115 lb. class.

The season's record shows Bucknell with four victories besides the Conference tournament as against three defeats. The season's record was even better than the figures indicate, as is the case of the Pitt meet which Bucknell lost because of two forfeits, but had as many actual victories as did their opponents. Two men, Valentino and Quick, completed the season with but a single defeat, and another, Ballard, finished the regular schedule without a loss, but with two draws.

At the Conference championship bouts, Androski, Valentino, and Quick emerged as individual champions.

BASEBALL RESUME

THE 1936 Bucknell baseball team, handicapped by weak pitching and a sporadic attack, were able to chalk up only four games out of the seventeen played, massing only 81 runs to 124 for the opposition.

The Bisons opened their campaign against the Red Devils of Dickinson, and although Pete Sivess, now with the Philadelphia Phillies, was in the box for the Red Devils, the Bisons scored a 7-6 victory.

The Bisons bowed to Dickinson in a return game, and then returned to the victory trail by downing Susquehanna, 14-7, after which game they remained victoryless until the Ursinus game.

The Mylinmen bowed to Gettysburg, 8-6, and then scored their final victory of the year, a 6-5 win over Susquehanna. From that time, the Bisons were battered from post to post, although in the final game of the year, they displayed a good game of ball in bowing to Penn State, 5-1.

Captain Dobie, Sitarsky, Lauerman, and Valentino led the Bison attack, while Ruoff turned in some timely long distance hitting. Chuck Allen was the most effective pitcher on the Bison's wobbly mound staff, although Bowman, Sitarsky, Riemensnyder, and Monahan all had their moments.

UNDER the guidance of Professor F. G. Ballentine, the 1936 tennis team completed a fairly successful season by winning five out of nine matches.

Lehigh handed the Bison raquetters a 9-0 whitewashing in the inaugural encounter, but a 7-2 victory over Lafayette, and an overwhelming 8-1 shellacking administered to Temple made amends for the disastrous debut.

The courtsters met rough going in their match with a determined Lebanon Valley team that downed the Bisons 5-4. A powerful Georgetown outfit then handed the Bisons a 7-2 thrashing, and a merciless Penn State aggregation swept the tired Bucknell courtsters into submission without allowing them a single match.

The Bisons returned to form to shut out Susquehanna 7-0, and then upset Dickinson 5-4, in a match decided by the doubles team of Elcome and Nesbit in extra sets. In the finale, the Orange and Blue netters displayed their best form of the year in turning back Western Maryland at will.

RESUME OF THE SEASON

THE 1936 season proved to be a successful one for the trackmen. Bucknell's one mile relay team, composed of Holly Carpenter, Dan Friedman, Edwin Stebbins, and Bill Wilkinson, won the Middle Atlantic Championship, and a special one mile college relay at the annual Penn Relays held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, April 24 and 25. The championship was assured after the Plantmen had defeated a finely trained and favored Rutgers relay team.

At the annual Track and Field meet at Swarthmore, a small Bison squad placed second, losing to a powerful Rutgers squad.

In the only two dual intercollegiate contests of the year, the Bisons emerged the victors at the expense of Susquehanna and Juniata.

In the initial contest of the season against Juniata, Stebbins shattered the Bucknell dash record, clocking 100 yards in 9.7. The Bisons ended on top, 67-59. In the final meet of the year the Bisons administered an 88-38 defeat to Susquehanna, sweeping first places in all but two of the field and six of the track events.

FRESHMAN

A PROMISING Freshman football squad, coached by Johnny Sitarsky, compiled a record of two victories and two defeats against tough competition from near and far.

The Bisonettes lost to the Army Plebes, 6 to 0, in their inaugural contest. Although the little Bisons completely outplayed the "future lieutenants", the greater weight, experience, and numbers of their adversaries tired the small Bucknell squad and the Pointers completed a last minute pass for a touchdown.

The Yearlings again suffered defeat in their annual Father's Day scrap, this time to the Temple Frosh who were awarded a 7 to 0 verdict after sixty minutes of smashing football.

The initial success of the season was gained at the expense of Penn State's Frosh whose team included nine prep school captains. The Orange and Blue scored on an early touchdown drive, sparked by the broken field running of halfback Frank Funair and the plunging of fullback George Kiick who bucked the line for the only score of the game.

The Frosh flashed their best form in the last contest of the year against the hard-fighting Keystone Junior College eleven, in scoring a 21 to 0 victory.

SPORTS

BASKETBALL

THE 1937 Bucknell Frosh Basketball team enjoyed a most successful season garnering twelve victories in fifteen games, for a total of 609 points as against their opponent's 524.

The yearlings were tied for first place in the newly organized Northeastern Pennsylvania freshman intercollegiate basketball league at the conclusion of their regular schedule. A post season game with St. Thomas Junior College for the undisputed championship of the league resulted in a 56 to 38 victory for the Scranton boys. The Bisonettes, behind most of the game, fought a valiant struggle and forced their opponents to win the game in an overtime period.

BOXING

ALTHOUGH the 1937 boxing team failed to win either of their two matches, their season may be considered successful, for coach Joe Reno was able to unearth many promising youngsters to bolster his 1938 varsity ring team.

In their inaugural match, the Orange and Blue tied the Penn State freshmen 4-4, largely through the efforts of Curtis Henning and Frank Funair who won the last bouts of the evening.

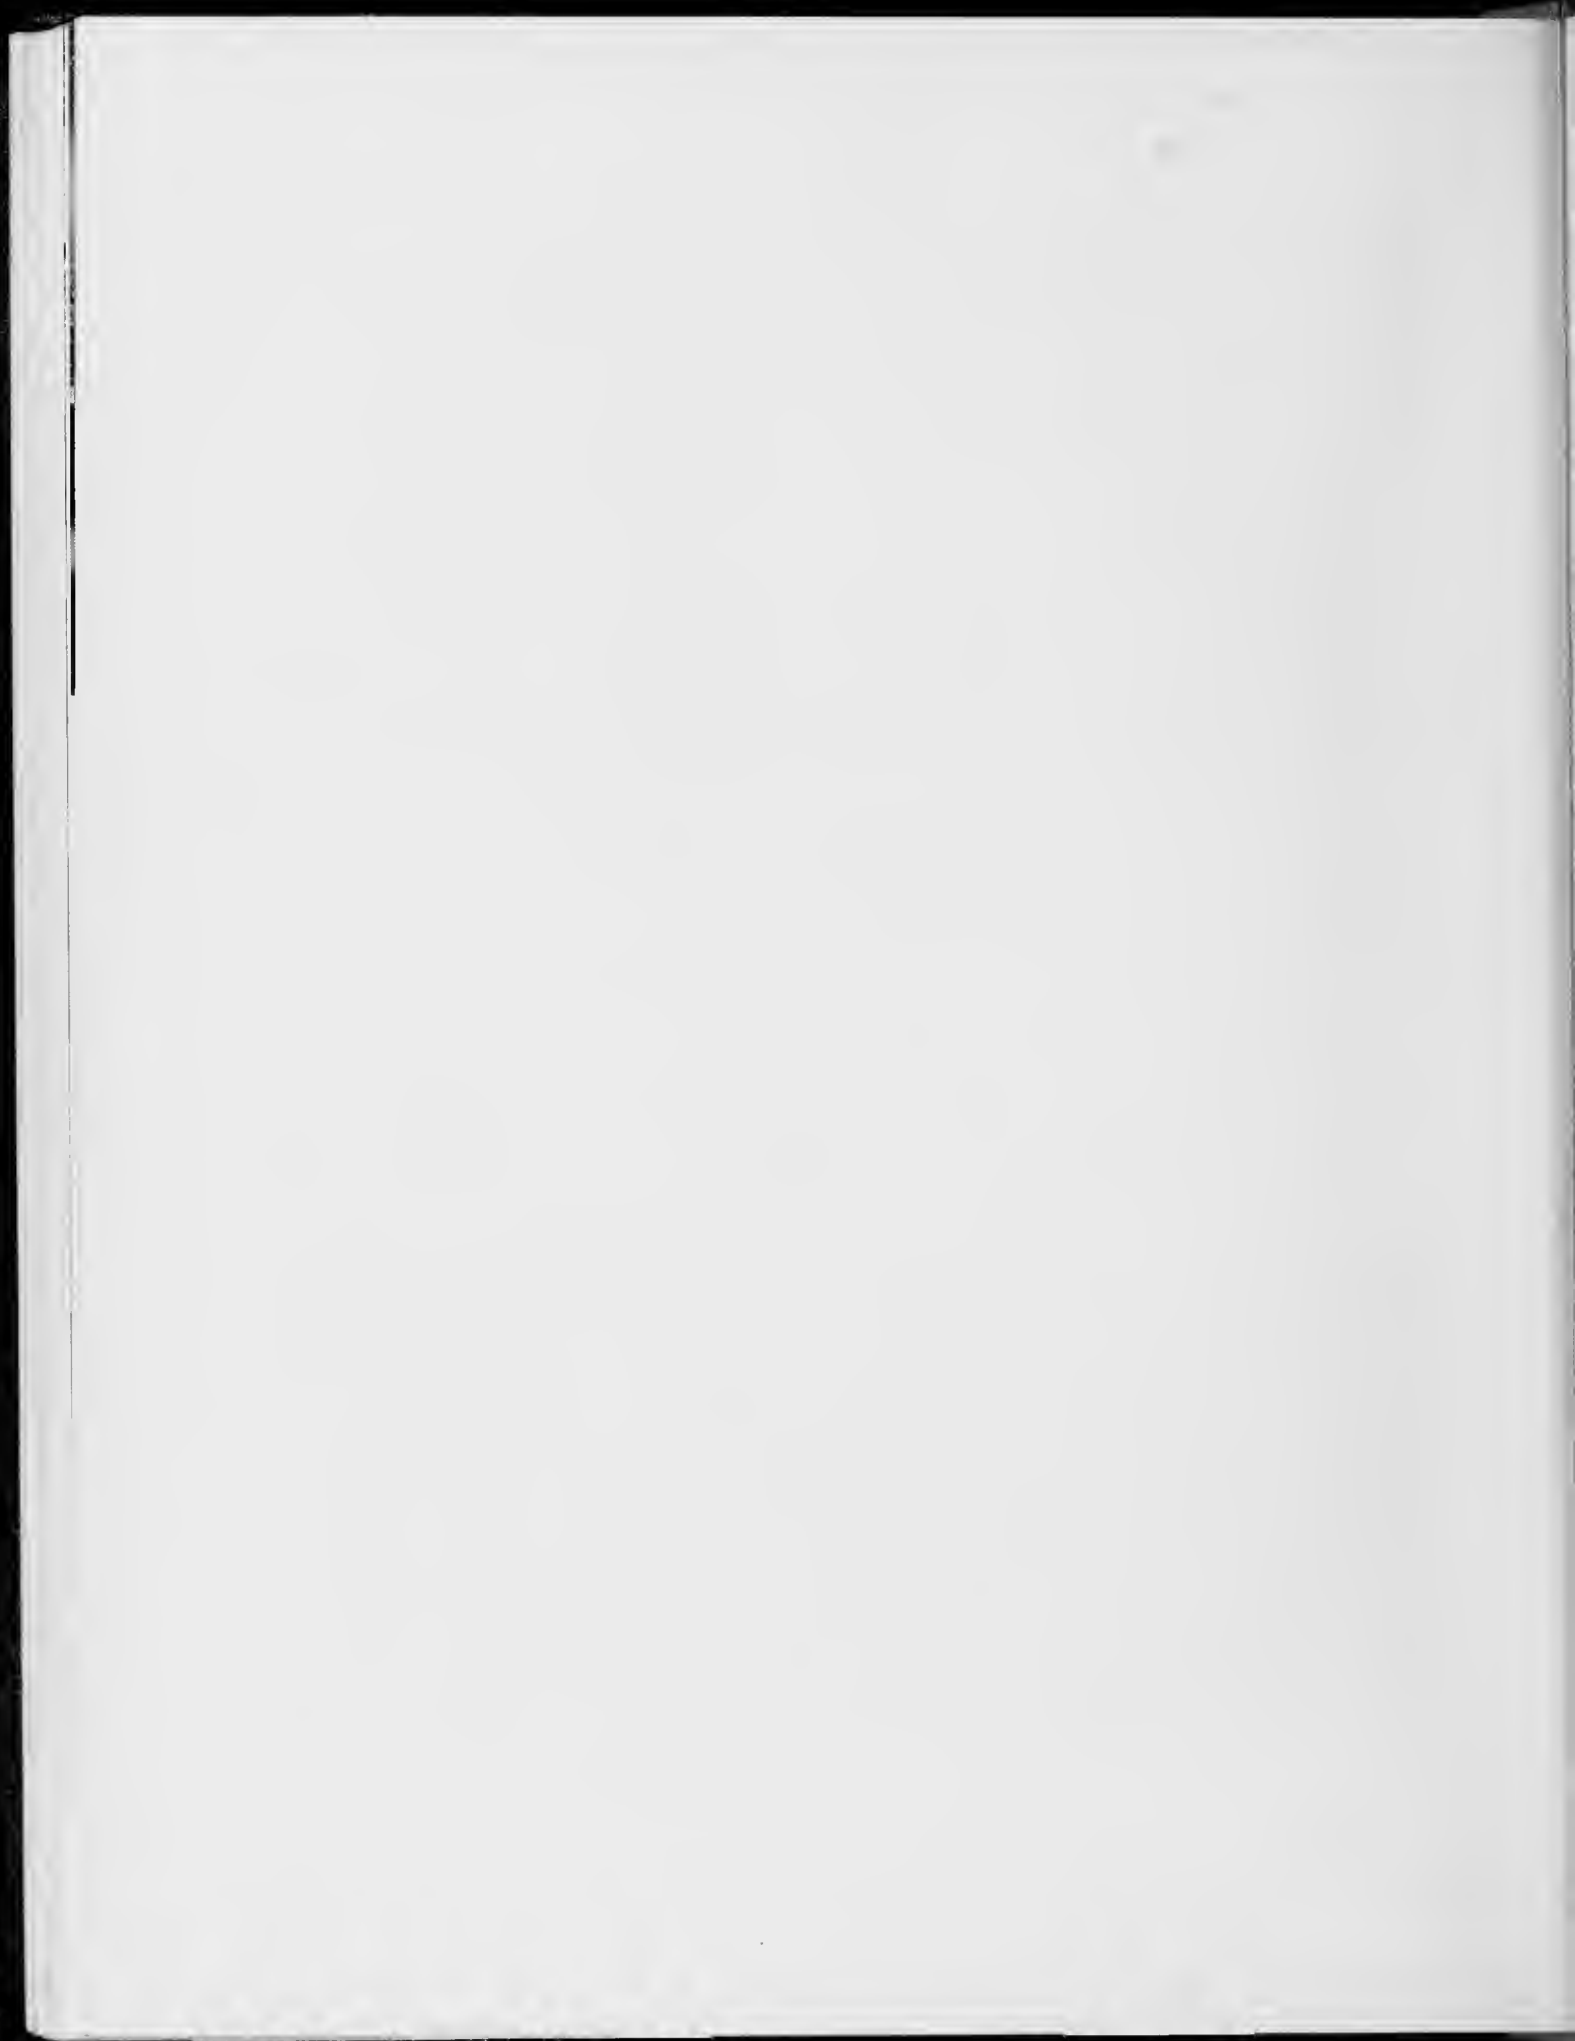

The yearlings were sadly outclassed by the older and more experienced plebes from West Point 7-1, but were every inch their equal in courage and intestinal fortitude. Frank Funair, the sole Bucknell victor, achieved his second straight one round K. O. of the season.

THE Women's Athletic Council consists of the Director of Physical Education for Women, one representative from each sorority, and one representative from the girls of the Student Campus Club. The purpose of this organization is to create interest in sports, and to supervise all competitive athletic activities among the women.

Features of the year, 1936-37, were contests in baseball, hockey, tennis, basketball and ping-pong. This year the Woman's Athletic Association added four new bicycles for girls to the gymnasium equipment.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

THE fine program of sports for those not of varsity calibre or inclination, which has been recently expanded at Bucknell, is gaining greater interest and keener competition every year.

With a revision of the program, and the inclusion of several new sports on the intramural calendar, there has appeared stiff competition, which has uncovered a wealth of talent and ability, not to mention the fine spirit of sportsmanship and code of honor it has developed.

The aim of intramural sports is to secure an opportunity for competition for all. "A sport for every individual" has grown from a mere slogan to a wonderful reality. It is in this type of activity, with our own acquaintances, that there arise innumerable opportunities to test not only the skill of an individual, but his character as well.

The program is by no means complete, and it remains only for better resources, in the form of a more spacious and adequate gymnasium, for the activities to become even more inclusive. It is with this thought in mind that the students speak as one in their praise of Mr. Plant, Mr. Musser, and Mr. Reno, for their fine work in placing before the student body such a splendid field of diversion. The work of Miss Derr and Miss Toome with the women students is also noteworthy.

SPRING EVENTS

BASEBALL

THE final game, of a three game series, proved to be a duel from the mound between Hawkins, T. U. O. and Bill Raymaley, P. K. P., with the latter backed by a slightly better balanced team, which helped greatly to win the cup.

WOMEN'S BASEBALL

THE team of Phi Mu was defeated for the first time in three years in its efforts to win the championship in the women's baseball league. The champions this season proved to be the non-sorority team who had a well-balanced and ably led group.

TRACK

WITH a well-balanced team, both on the track and the field, the Sigma Chi team won the 1936 meet and with it the all-year trophy and the Pangburn trophy cup as well. The Phi Gamma Delta group finished a close second in the meet, with the summary as follows:

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA CHAPTER

Established, 1855

BUCKNELL'S oldest fraternity continues to hold a prominent position on the campus by participating in the many social and academic events of the year.

The Phi Psi men represent a diversity of activities. Ralph Axthelm has been an outstanding Cap and Daggerite in the past four years. Ambrose Saricks holds several top positions in honoraries. Pfeiffer is a varsity football man. Carey, Quick, LaBrake, and Carpenter, form the nucleus of the varsity track team. In intramural boxing, Horace Lowe, Freshman Class President, won the 145 lb. championship.

A highlight of the year's activities at the house was a reception held in early March for Leverett S. Lyons, Grand National President of the fraternity. In addition to the regular dances of the year, featuring houseparty, a series of open houses were held at the Chapter house.

SIGMA CHI

KAPPA CHAPTER

Established, 1864

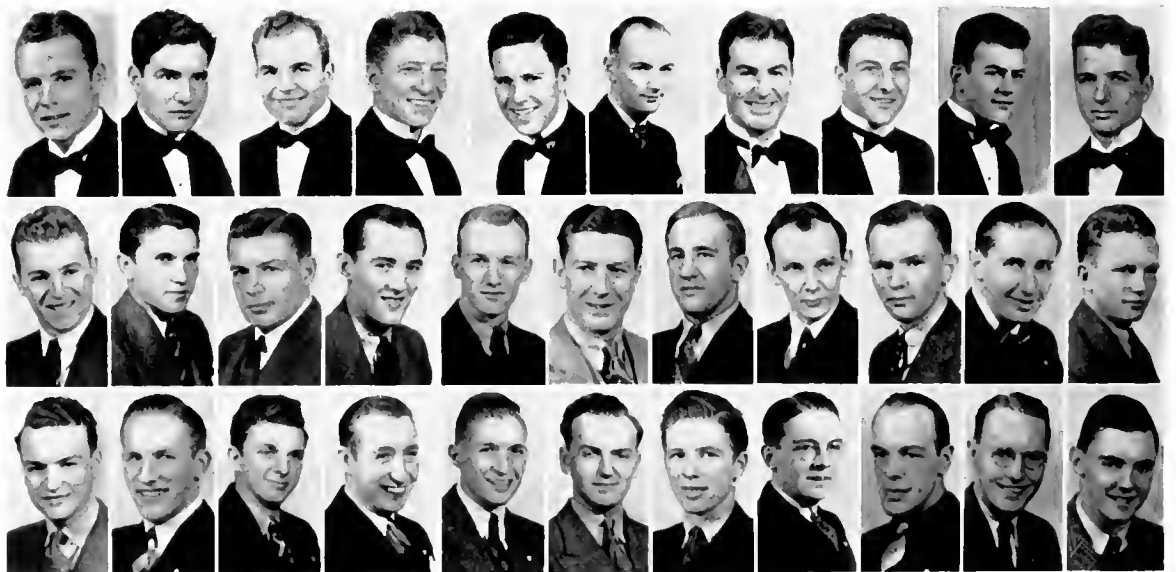

SIGMA CHI monopolized the winter program in intramural sports by annexing two championships, boxing and volleyball. Besides being represented in the athletic program at Bucknell, Kappa men are found in the many other activities on the campus.

The feature of the dance calendar was the annual Bowery Brawl, held in February. A dinner before the Senior Ball, a Christmas Dance, a Pledge Dance, several open houses, and the spring Houseparty, formed a full social program for the year.

The Presidency of the Senior Class is held by a Sigma Chi. The football lineup includes Jones, Lane, Bosze, Green, Rosati, Otlowski, and Fazio. On the varsity basketball squad, Monahan, Sager, Summers, and Lane represent Sigma Chi.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Founded at Jefferson College, 1848

PENNSYLVANIA DELTA CHAPTER

Established, 1882

IN the fifty-fifth year of its life on Bucknell's campus, Phi Gamma Delta continues as an outstanding social organization devoted to the welfare of Bucknell and her students. Scholastically, socially and athletically the "Fijis" have participated.

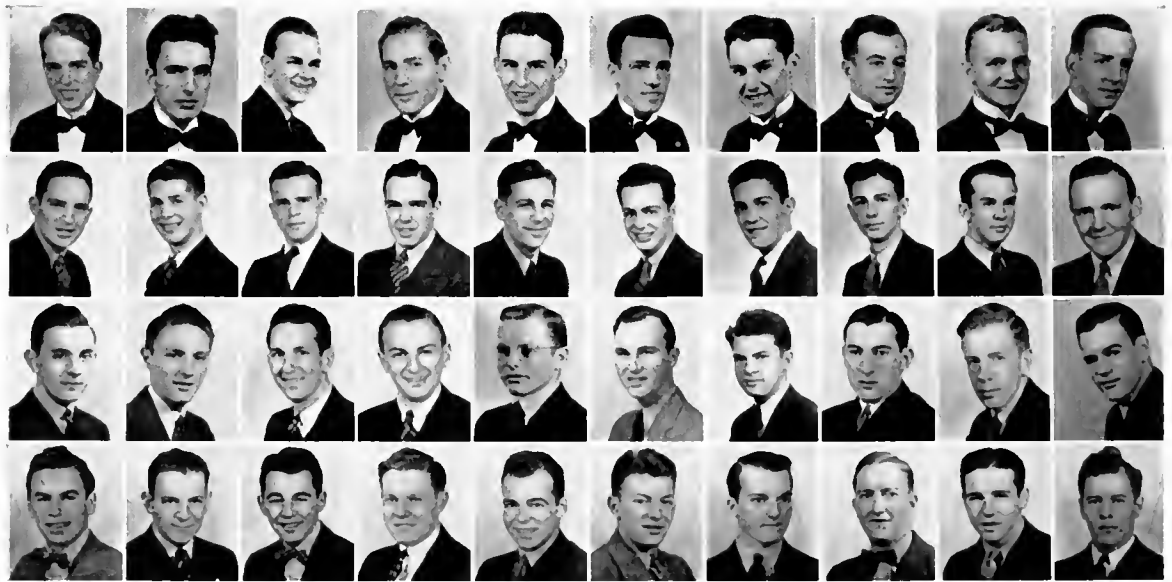

During the past fall, Delta swept all opposition aside to win the intramural soccer championship. On the squad were "Sandy" Bolton, Bill Peebles, Jerry Finkelstein, and Bill Eyster, the last three of whom will return next season.

Four members of the chapter were active on the varsity boxing squad. Walt Ballard, intercollegiate 145-lb. champ, along with Bill Androski, Dick Reider, and Jack Bailey entered the ring for the Bisons. In track and field the "Fijis" were represented by Dick Reider, Pete Wood, Tony Wolfe, Bill Roberts, and Sandy Bolton.

During the past year, Phi Gamma Delta has been represented in the Commerce and Finance Club, Bucknellian, Glee Club, and honorary and professional fraternities.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Founded at the University of Alabama, 1856

PENNSYLVANIA ZETA CHAPTER

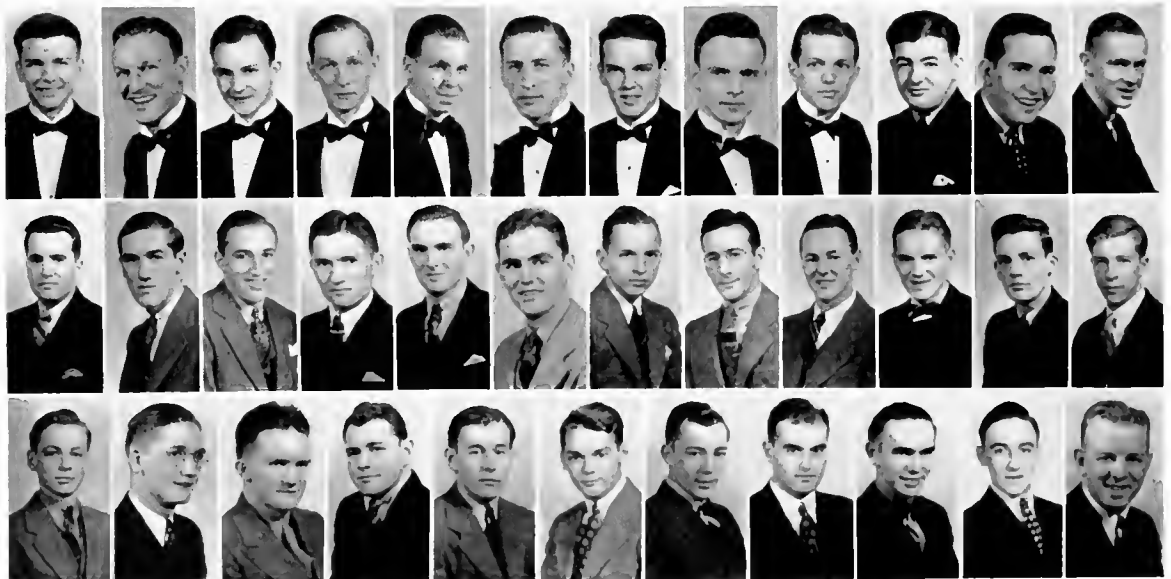

Established, 1893

DURING the past year, Pennsylvania Zeta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon has continued to hold its prominent position among Bucknell fraternities. The variety of the characters of its members and the diversity of their interests and activities has again justified S. A. E.'s claim to be a general representation of college life.

Besides having members in various musical organizations such as the Band, the Bucknellian, and the Glee Club, the S. A. E.'s have the office of Junior Class President. The fraternity has membership in honorary fraternities on the campus as well. Harvey Travis is the Editor-in-chief of the Bucknellian and William Work is Business Manager of the same publication.

In athletics, S. A. E. claims the captains of three major sports at Bucknell, football, baseball, and track. In addition it has members participating in all varsity sports, as well as in the intramural league of the campus. The captain of the Freshman football team is an S. A. E. pledge.

DELTA SIGMA

Established at Bucknell, 1899

DELTA SIGMA has continued its past interest in campus affairs with representation in nearly every extra-curricular activity. This interest has not been maintained at the expense of scholarship, for during the past two semesters the fraternity has stood second scholastically among Bucknell Greek letter societies.

William Elcome captained the varsity soccer team last fall, Havard Griffith played with the varsity football eleven, and George Lane represented Delta Sigma on the basketball squad. On the Staff of the Bucknellian, Robert Streeter served as Managing Editor, and Paul Silvius as Advertising Manager. Jack Sholl was Treasurer of the campus Christian Association.

Delta Sigma, one of the few fraternities to present a play as a part of its regular program, presented this year, "The Poor of New York," a melodrama, before an invited audience.

ALPHA PHI DELTA

Founded at Syracuse University, 1914
PENNSYLVANIA BETA EPSILON CHAPTER
Established, 1930

WITH the advent of September, 1936, came the acquisition of a new home for Beta Epsilon of Alpha Phi Delta. In addition, the number of actives, totaling six last year, has been augmented to eight, while four pledges increase the entire membership to twelve.

It is evident that the limitations set by the smallness of the chapter are effective in reducing the degree of active participation in campus activities. Yet, although comparatively new on the Bucknell campus, Beta Epsilon has progressed steadily, through the persistent efforts of all of its members.

The chapter has taken part in all intramural sports. In addition, Enio Conti is on the varsity football team, Alfred Ricigliano was appointed to the Senior Tribunal, and Anthony Policelli is the Vice-President of the Class of 1939.

Thus, this year has served as another firm layer of a base upon which a strong superstructure, now in view, will be placed.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

THE Interfraternity Council, consisting of a representative from each fraternity on the campus, is an organization which serves to foster a cooperative spirit among the fraternities. All interfraternity relations are under the direction of this Council.

Each year the Interfraternity Council holds an Interfraternity Pledge Banquet at which Pledges, representing all fraternities, meet and become further acquainted as Bucknellians.

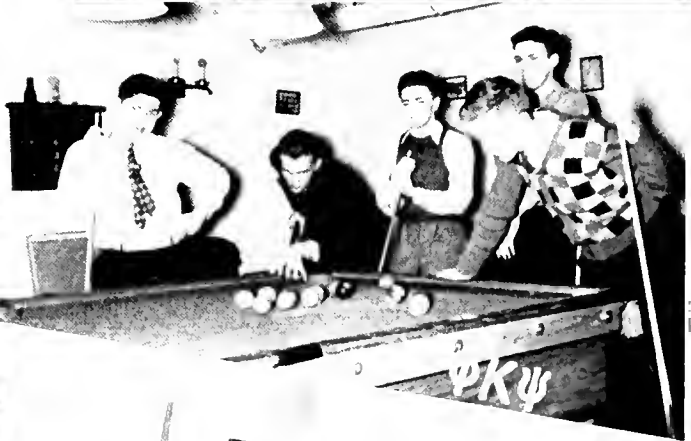

This year part of the fraternity initiation policy was changed with the abolishment of the traditional Hell Week.

Through the Interfraternity Council the fraternities are united in a program to improve college spirit, and to contribute toward a finer life at Bucknell.

PI BETA PHI

Founded at Monmouth College, 1867

PENNSYLVANIA BETA CHAPTER

Established, 1895

THE Pi Beta Phi's held four dances—a pledge dance, a formal dinner dance, a spring informal, and the Settlement School dance. One of the highlights of the year was a luncheon held in Harrisburg in conjunction with the Dickinson Pi Beta Phi Chapter. An entertainment was held celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Settlement School.

At Fall Convocation, Lois Chapin won a prize for excellence in voice, and Hannah Mervine won one for superiority in Latin. Marian Pursley's painting won a mural contest sponsored by the Hotel Lewisburger. In the "Design for Living" essay contest the first two prizes were won by Peggy Davis and Carol Lee Davis, respectively. Irma Hewitt and Eleanor Scureman had the leading feminine roles in three Cap and Dagger productions. Pi Beta Phi has members in honoraries, C. A., and the Art Club, as well as members on the Bucknellian and L'Agenda staffs.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Founded at Boston University, 1888

TAU CHAPTER

Established, 1904

TAU is trying to follow the leadership of its national organization in the development of the cultural phase of college life. The establishment of a chapter library, the fostering of relationships with faculty and town friends, as well as entertaining campus friends at cozies, teas, and dances, and the improvement of the sorority suite play a part in this new concept of the meaning of the sorority.

In addition to being runner-up for the hockey plaque and the Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Cup, as a group, individuals have also taken part in campus activities. The chapter is represented in Cap and Dagger, Theta Alpha Phi, Mu Phi Epsilon, C. E. A., Delta Phi Alpha, Pi Mu Epsilon, Symphony Orchestra, Mixed Chorus, and Christian Association. Members of Tri Delta hold the following offices: President of Mu Phi Epsilon, Vice-President and Treasurer of W. S. G. A., Treasurer of W. A. A., Treasurer of C. E. A., Treasurer and Secretary of the Senior Class, and Treasurer of Pan-Hellenic.

PHI TAU CHAPTER

Prominent offices held by Kappa Deltas this year were: President of Pan-Hellenic, Secretary of W. A. A., and Pi Mu Epsilon, Secretary-Treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta, Secretary and Treasurer of the Freshman class, three offices of Junior women, and four offices of Senior women.

PAN-HELLENIC ASSOCIATION

THE Pan-Hellenic Association of Bucknell University is organized by the Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of two representatives from each of the national sororities: Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta, Zeta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Pi Beta Phi.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage cooperation among the sororities, and to provide an agency of mutual benefit for the discussion of problems common to the participating groups. During rushing week the Council, acting as governing body for the sororities, enforces the rules set forth by University authorities.

Each year the Pan-Hellenic Council sponsors a tea for all Freshmen women. During the tea the girls are entertained for a few minutes at each of the sorority suites.

STUDENT CAMPUS CLUB

*Smirnow, President; Kephart, Treasurer
Petherbridge, Vice-President; O'Mara, Secretary*

THE Student Campus Club, through a social and athletic program, has presented to the unaffiliated student of the campus some very definite opportunities. In the field of athletics both men's and women's teams have ranked high in intramural activities, the men's team having won the cross-country run, and the women's team ranking high in hockey and basketball.

The two main events of the social program were a Fall Dance, and a Spring Swing. Not only were these affairs social successes for the members themselves, but they afforded an opportunity for the unaffiliated student to extend a good time to fraternity friends who had favored them with bids.

With a spirit of friendship, cooperation, and congeniality, the organization looks forward to an even more progressive program for next year.

FINE Quality Printing is nowhere more essential than in the college annual. The story told by the copy and engravings is worthless unless the printed pages provide eloquent testimony of its truthful reproduction of campus life. Production of outstanding printing depends upon the masterful handling of such technical subtleties as presswork, make-ready and the choice of color and ink.

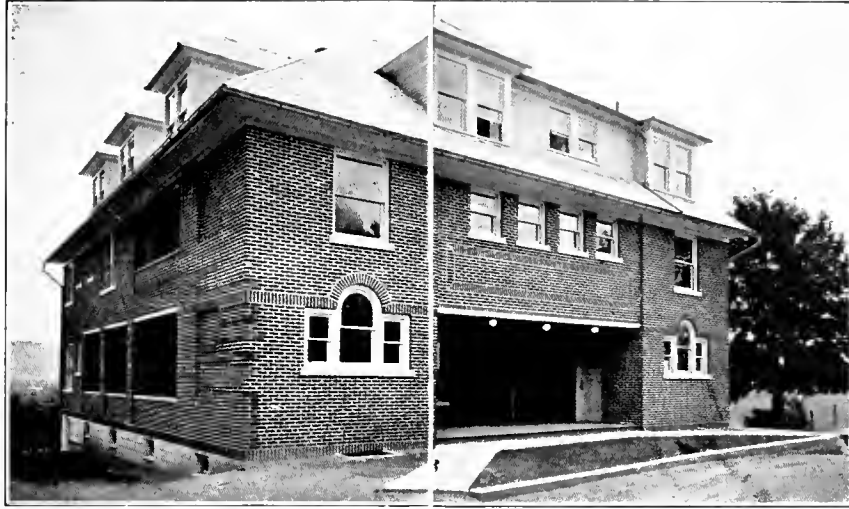

Consistently good printing execution has been a primary reason for the selection of our organization as the printers of L'AGENDA of Bucknell University for many years. And in addition each Staff has had an intelligent advisory service---thoroughly understanding their requirements and representing an organization capable of meeting them.
